Sect That Would Not Fight Or Become Citizens Seeks New Fields in South Seas Or in Argentine Republic.

GRAND FORKS, B. C., May 16. (Spl.) -The Doukhobors have agreed to sel all their land in Canada for soldier set tlement. This is the result of an agita tion against the Russian pacifist sec started by returned soldlers. The Douk hobors decline to become citizens and refused to fight in the war. Their war service consisted in giving jam to the gin, leader of the Doukhobors, and given to the soldiers' settlement board, reads: "On behalf of the Christian Commyity of Universal Brotherhood, I agree to sell all our lands in Canada minion.

Peter Veregin, who was an exile in Siberia for 15 years and has been leader of the sect in Canada since 1903, said all the land held by the sect in Canada was valued at $2,000,000. There are three colonies, one in British Columbia, one in Alberia and one in Saskatchewan. The British Columbia colony owns 4,500 acres. It is planted extensively to orchards. It shipped 100 carloads of surplus fruit last year to other Doukhobor settlements.

The Doukhobor holdings in Alberta and in the fine mixed farming region around Prince Albert in Saskatchewan embraces 40,000 acres. Inc. Louise bors bought 18,000 acres more last year, which is not yet paid for. The indebtedness in mortgages on this land will run over $1,000,000. The Alberta and Saskatchewan colonies for years have averaged more than 30 bushels of wheat to the acre.

The Doukhobors came to Canada in o the acre.

The Doukhohors came to Canada The Doukhobors came to Canada in 1900 to escape religious persecution in Russia. They now number 8,000, and their colonies are operated on the communistic plan. They extended their settlements to British Columbia in 1911. Their refusal to become citizens has resulted in several clashes with the federal government and the withdrawal of any more free homesteds in Saskatchewan for settlement by the sect. The Doukhobors, it is understood, have had agents in Argentina, Australia and New Zealand looking over opportunities for colonization in preparation for a possible exodus from Canada of the entire brotherhood.

DISAGREEMENT EXISTS ABOUT STREET PAVING

FORREST CITY, Ark., May 16. (Spl.)

—A slight disagreement arose yesterday between the commissioners at a meeting of Forrest City improvement district No. 5, when one of the commissioners dissented from the decision reached by the other members of the board which provides for widening the pavements or sidewalks two feet on each side of the street throughout the business district.

The member of the board who dissented in this action takes the position that the principal business streets are already too narrow and to cut them down four more feet in putting this paving project over will prove very damaging and result in a congestion of traffic that would call forth a protest from the taxpayers after the street paving project has been completed. FORREST CITY, Ark., May 16. (Spl.)
